Bill No. 4 Parliamentary Pensions (Amendment) Bill 2014

THE PARLIAMENTARY PENSIONS (AMENDMENT) BILL

2014

MEMORANDUM

1. The object of the Bill.

The object of the bill is to amend the Parliamentary Pensions Act, 2007, Act No. 6 of 2007 to—

- (a) make the Parliamentary pension scheme a body corporate with perpetual succession and a common seal;
- (b) provide for additional powers of the board of trustees;
- (c) provide for continuity of the Board membership;
- (d) change the pensionable period of service from five years to ten years;
- (e) provide for additional voluntary contributions;
- (f) include the staff of the scheme as members of the scheme;
- (g) change the duration for actuarial valuation from five years to three years; and
- (h) provide for payment of trivial pension.

2. Defects in the existing law.

- (a) there is ambiguity as to whether the scheme is clothed with the legal status to enter into legally binding transactions with other persons and entities. Amending the Act to give the scheme corporate status would remove the apparent ambiguity so as to enable the scheme to enter into such transactions in its corporate name.
- (b) the Act provides for five years as the pensionable period of service of a member to qualify for pension. However, overtime, it has been observed that the five years period is a short time and it is proposed that the five years be increased to ten years.
- (c) it has also been noted that certain former members get small amounts of pension which have unnecessarily increased the administrative expenses incurred by the scheme. It is therefore proposed that these small amounts of pension be declared trivial pension and be paid to the former members as a lump sum payment.
- (d) the Act restricts contributions to the scheme by the members to those provided by the Act. It does not allow members who are willing to make additional contributions to their member accounts to do so. The proposal therefore is that members should be allowed to make additional voluntary contributions to their member accounts.
- (e) the Act does not comprehensively provide for the powers of the board of trustees. It is therefore proposed that these powers be provided for under the Act.
- (f) the Act provides for an actuarial review to be carried out once in every five years. It has been observed and noted that this is a long period of time and as such there is need to reduce this period to three years or give the board the mandate to request for an actuarial valuation to be conducted at such time as the board may determine.

- (g) the current benefits due to a Member of Parliament is not benefitting of an honorable member. There is therefore need for a scheme redesign for Members of Parliament and staff of the Parliamentary Commission.

Provisions of the Bill.

3. Clause 1 of the Bill seeks to amend section 2 of the Parliamentary Pensions Act (the principal Act) by repealing and substituting the definition of "Authority" means the Uganda Retirement Benefits Regulatory Authority; "retirement" to mean "retirement as, or ceasing to be, a member after a period of ten continuous years of service as a member and on attainment of forty five years of age" The reason is to increase the pensionable years from five to ten for one to qualify for pension since it has been observed that five years is a short time. In addition, clause 2 repeals and substitutes the definitions of "actuary" "Custodian" to align them with similar definitions in the Uganda Retirement Benefits Regulatory Authority Act; and the definition of "member" to include the staff of the Parliamentary Pensions Scheme.

4. Clause 2 seeks to amend section 4 of the principal Act by inserting a new subsection (3) to provide for the scheme to be a body corporate with perpetual succession and a common seal. The reason is to clearly cloth the scheme with corporate personality. The clause also makes provision for the staff of the Parliamentary Pension Scheme.

5. Clause 3 seeks to amend section 5 of the principal Act by making provision for staff of the Parliamentary Pensions Scheme.

6. Clause 4 seeks to amend section 6 of the principal Act by providing that the Parliamentary Pension Scheme shall be the sponsor for the staff of the Parliamentary Pensions Scheme.

7. Clause 5 seeks to amend the principal Act by inserting immediately after section 6 a new section 6A to allow members to make additional voluntary contributions to the scheme which will form part of the scheme credit and will be paid to the member in lump sum with interest to be determined from time to time by the board.
8. Clause 6 seeks to align section 7B of the principal Act with section 70 of the Uganda Retirement Benefits Regulatory Authority Act to provide for early access of benefits for medical treatment.
9. Clause 7 seeks to amend section 10 of the principal Act to provide for the staff of the Parliamentary Pension Scheme.
10. Clause 8 seeks to amend section 10A of the principal Act to provide for trivial pension as one of the payments that can be made from the fund.
11. Clause 9 seeks to amend section 12 of the principal Act by increasing the pensionable years from five to ten.
12. Clause 10 seeks to amend section 12A of the principal Act by repealing section 12A.
13. Clauses 11, 12 and 13 seek to amend the principal Act by increasing the pensionable years from five to ten and expand the membership of the scheme to include staff of the parliamentary pensions scheme.
14. Clause 14 seeks to amend the principal Act by repealing section 15A.
15. Clause 15 seeks to amend section 18 of the principal Act by inserting paragraph (f) which provides for the clerk to Parliament to be a member of the board of trustees and substituting for subsection (4) that the Clerk shall be the secretary to the board and principal signatory to the scheme.

16. Clause 16 seeks to amend section 18 of the principal Act by inserting a new section 18A to provide for powers of the board. The reason is to categorically provide for the powers of the board.

17. Clause 17 seeks to amend section 23 of the principal Act by providing for an actuarial review to be carried out once in every three years or at such times as the board may determine. The reason is that five years have proved to be a long time for an actuarial review studies to be carried out.

18. Clause 18 seeks to amend section 23A of the principal Act by referring all appeals against any decision of the board to the Authority.

19. Clause 19 seeks to amend section 24 of the principal Act by repealing the requirement for parliamentary approval of statutory instruments enacted under this Act.

20. Clause 20 seeks to amend Schedule 1 of the principal Act by redesigning the formula.

21. Clause 21 seeks to extend the term of the current members of the board elected under section 18(1) (d) and (e) to provide for continuity.
