

CERTIFICATE OF FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

(Made under Section 76 of the Public Finance Management Act, 2015)

THIS IS TO CERTIFY that the THE SUCCESSION AMENDMENT (AMENDMENT) BILL, 2019, has been examined for financial implications as required under Section 76 of the Public Finance Management Act 2015 (as amended).

I wish to report as follows:

a) Objectives of the amendment

The Bill seeks to amend the Succession Act in order to provide for the rights of women and accord them the right to equal treatment with men in relation to distribution of property and estates of intestate persons.

b) The Expected Outputs and outcomes from implementing the amendments

The main outcome of the amendment is elimination of discrimination against the female gender in succession and inheritance of property. Some of the expected outputs are listed as follows:

- i. There will be equal treatment of men and women during distribution of the estates of intestate persons;

- ii. There will be equal distribution of estates of the deceased property amongst all children;
- iii. There will be guidelines for joint administration of executors and administrators of estates;
- iv. Consent of spouses and lineal dependents will be sought prior to disposal of estate property by administrators;
- v. The succession Act will be aligned with the Constitution of the Republic of Uganda;
- vi. There will be guidelines for guardianship in relation to succession.

c) Funding and budgetary implications

The amendments do not carry any additional funding obligations to the Government of Uganda. Implementation of the Amended Act will be done within the resources available to the relevant Government entities.

d) Expected savings and/or revenue to Government

There is no expected direct revenue or savings to Government resulting from this amendment.

Submitted to Parliament under my hand this ^{SK}..... day of ^{Aug}..... 2019
